C-Flow Design

C-Flow conveyors pick up items from an infeed conveyor and carry them (90° vertically) up or down to either a higher or lower output elevation. They then deliver the products to a discharge conveyor that faces the same way as the infeed conveyor.

Z-Flow Design

Z-Flow conveyors pick up items from an infeed conveyor and carry them (90° vertically) up or down to either a higher or lower output elevation. They then deliver the products to a discharge conveyor that faces the opposite way as the infeed conveyor.
